

Visioncircles

Enhancing Innate Perceptual Intelligence

September 11-13, 2020 · Phoenix, Arizona

Visioncircles is a joyful exploration of eight developmental spheres of our innate perceptual intelligence. These natural gifts are present at birth, but may be suppressed (or less used) in response to outer-directed, competitive or goal-oriented environments.

The perceptual intelligences addressed are:

The Observer	The Animator
The Resonator	The Nurturer
The Builder	The Internalizer
The Communicator	The Synergist

When these perceptual intelligences are developed and integrated, our natural, innate abilities become more available. This naturally enhancing focus, memory, listening, spatial sense, organization, inner calm and personal ease, artistic enjoyment and creativity.

Course participants will:

- experience the developmental elements of each of the eight spheres of perceptual intelligence, through movement, play, and artistic exploration
- anchor this experience through information on each developmental sphere
- practice balancing course partners in full development of each sphere
- learn 32 Visiongym movements to add to your learning menu, and to enhance your daily experience of the world around you
- come away with tools for balancing clients and students, friends, family, and self, when goals are blocked by lack of development of any of these spheres

Who will benefit: Teachers, OTs, PTs, SLTs, Education Therapists, Parents, anyone who works with those who would like to function more efficiently and move more easily through life.
